Local John Coffee DAR chapter celebrates 60 years of service

The John Coffee Chapter #3033 National Society Daughters of the American Revolution [DAR] celebrated its 60th Anniversary (May 30, 1963 - May 30, 2023) this month.

Eunora Farris was the organizing Regent and served as its first Regent. Nancy Elizabeth Cowart Brunson of Elba was one of the 24 organizing members and a Charter Member of the original chapter. She is still an active member today.

During the 60th Anniversary celebration Brunson was recognized and presented with a Certificate of Appreciation signed by the NSDAR President General Pamela Rouse Wright for her 60 years of dedicated and faithful service. She also received a wrist corsage of red, white and blue flowers, a banner recognizing her for being a charter member and a gift from the outgoing Regent Jacques Hawkins.

A very informative power-point presentation was prepared by Amanda Skinner and narrated by the Chapter's Historian Nell Gilmer. There were many pictures of happenings over the 60-year period.

The Alabama Society DAR Regent Patrice Donnelly was a special guest, driving from Birmingham, Ala. to attend the 10 a.m. meeting. She was presented with a basket of mementos, donated by Jacques Hawkins, from many of the shops in downtown Enterprise. While at the celebrations, Donnelly conducted an installation ceremony for the officers of the John Coffee Chapter who will be serving from June 1, 2023 until June 1, 2025.

Donnelly presented two red roses to Regent Jacques Hawkins and thanked her for her service to the John Coffee Chapter. She also presented a red rose to each of the new officers and installed them in their respective offices [see photo on Page 5].

Outgoing Regent Jacques Hawkins presented gifts to her officers in appreciation of their assistance during her two-year term of office as Regent. Hawkins final act was to present the gavel to Regent Betty Ann Stinson who gave welcoming remarks and adjourned the meeting. An outgoing gift was presented to Hawkins.

A cake donated by Jacques Hawkins and punch provided by Betty Ann Stinson was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be August 23rd with the location to be announced. Those interested in becoming a member of DAR should contact Registrar Shirley Skinner at shirley_skinner@hotmail.com or 334-301-6063.

Elba City Council approves Miranda Russell to new, full term on Elba School Board

by Linda Hodge, Editor

During the Elba City Council meeting held Monday evening, May 22, council members voted unanimously to reappoint Miranda Russell to the Elba City School Board.

Russell had been appointed to serve-out an unexpired term on the board that had been vacated, and now, that seat on the board was up for a full-term appointment.

Mayor Tom Maddox said everyone he had spoken with believes that Russell had been doing a good job serving on the board for her district, and therefore, he recommended she be appointed to a new, full term.

After the council vote to affirm the appointment, Maddox thanked Russell for her willingness to give of her time to serve.

City clerk Sally Bane reported that construction for the new Elba Chamber of Commerce office on Davis Street in downtown Elba is progressing smoothly. She said that work is coming along really well and 'on budget' thus far.

Another project the city clerk addressed was the water main replacement project for Martin Luther King Drive. She said the contractor has been working to get this work done. Bane said traffic delays were to be expected while the project is underway.

"Keep in mind, however," she added, "Once the water mains are replaced, we get to repave that road. So, better days are ahead."

Also, during her report, Bane noted the Elba Splash Pad is open for the season. She said the splash pad is open each Tuesday - Saturday from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. and from 1 - 8 p.m. on Sundays. It is closed on Mondays for cleaning and maintenance.

Elba Police Chief Troy Staley reported "all things going smooth" for his department. The only thing Staley said was an issue right now for the department was some maintenance issues with vehicles.

Council member Jane Brunson asked if the department was currently fully staffed, and Staley said it was short two officers from being fully staffed. However, he added that the department currently does not have enough patrol cars for a full staff.

He said the department is down four vehicles now with the majority of the old Crown Vic cars being removed from the fleet, and he said the department still had not received the new vehicle it ordered last year. He said that vehicle had been on order for several months.

Bane added that the city had received word the vehicle had been shipped, but she said that means shipped from Mexico so there was

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Coffee County Revenue Commissioner Ronnie Burns presented his annual tax settlement report during the commission meeting held Monday, May 22, and inflation was the word commissioners heard multiple times.

"This has been the largest tax collection increase since I have been in office, and this is my 44th year," Coffee County Revenue Commissioner Ronnie Burns said. "It is up 15-18 percent. We've never had anything like that before, and it is all because of inflation."

He said the cost of materials, new houses, and land have all gone up over the past couple of years, and in some cases, shown a tremendous increase amount.

Burns said that has contributed to higher property taxes for the county's residents.

"Unfortunately, it is going to stay there for a bit before it goes down," he said. "It has started to go back down some, but we operate on the previous year numbers. So, that means it is going to take longer to come back down than it does to go back up."

Burns said since there had been a slight decrease in the market already, this upcoming year for taxes might not be quite as bad as this year, but he expects it to still be higher than the norm.

Burns said the tax increases from last year to this year were up some 3.2 million dollars.

Last year, he said the county collected $924,000 for the state general fund, and this year it was $1,106,000. The state soldier fund increased from $362,000 collected to $474,000, and the state school fund increased from $1,165,000 to $1,364,000.

The county's portion increased from $2,849,000 to $3,400,000 while the road and bridge fund increased from $1,396,000 to $1,666,000.

Burns said tax collections for the municipalities also all increased this year. Kinston went from $23,000 to $27,000 in collections. New Brockton went from $32,000 to $39,000. Elba increased from $118,000 to $140,000, and Enterprise saw its increase go from $2,715,000 to $3,243,000.

Collections for the schools showed District One (county schools) increasing from $1,784,000 last year to $2,070,000 this year; the Enterprise City Schools district increasing from $2,929,000 to $3,410,000; and the Elba City Schools district increased from $282,000 to $326,000 in collections.

Burns said the District One county-wide portion went from $616,000 to $690,000; Enterprise Schools portion went from $1,444,000 to $1,702,000; and Elba Schools portion went from $164,000 to $191,000.

"Again, all of this is because of inflation," Burns reminded commissioners after he presented those numbers.

He also presented the insolvents, errors and assessments, and taxes and litigations. These items needed approval from commissioners to allow Burns to submit his annual report to the state. A motion for such passed by unanimous vote.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Voltaire wrote during the reign of terror following the French Revolution over 200 years ago: "If you can get people to believe absurdities, you can get them to commit atrocities."

Voltaire's observation is as true today as it was 200 years ago! Social media has only expanded the opportunity for exploiting this human tendency.

Record-hot weather is predicted all across the U.S. for this summer, so says the weather experts. Reading a recap of their predictions seems to leave the southern part of the country out of the extreme heat predictions. They write about the Southwest extensively, and the Northwest will get some extreme heat (and dry weather). They note that the sea off the Northeast coast is already at normal summer temperatures, indicating they are going to get higher. Right now our weather in Alabama is fine, with cool evenings and nights and moderately warm weather during the day. We need to enjoy it while we can!

The news reports of recent drone attacks in Moscow, Russia worry us, as an indication of the war in Ukraine spreading and increasing the possibility of European countries and then the U. S. getting actively involved in the fighting and killing. The Ukraine folks have the right to protect their country (and are doing an impressive job of it) thus these drone attacks can be qualified as part of that defense effort, but we still worry about "The hurt dog that bites anything that moves."

The news Sunday morning was that a deal has been struck in Washington (maybe) on the debt ceiling and our Social Security check should soon "be in the mail" once the political grumbling is over. With billions in social security and welfare checks plus military and federal payrolls being at risk without solving this strictly political impasse would have many people going hungry and mass riots in a country already on edge about dozens of issues.

Our "unknown caller" hit again last Saturday morning shortly after midnight (and again at 5 a.m.). This time it didn't scare us as it did the week before...it just interrupts our sleep pattern and aggravates us a bunch. Completely turning off the phone is not really a good option, and 'How do you block a number you don't have?'

Last week we had negative comments about U. S. Senator Tuberville blocking the promotions of a bunch of military officers and the negative impact it would probably have on Alabama's chance of getting the new space center headquarters. One of our regular readers called defending the senator's actions. This reader is upset that the Pentagon has announced it will pay for pregnant female soldiers AND their families to travel to states where abortions are legal (which is the announced reason for Tuberville's delaying the promotions). Now our position on abortions hasn't changed and we could never encourage a woman to that decision, but neither do we pass judgement on someone who does opt for an abortion. We read just today that a woman dies in childbirth every two (2) minutes in the United States! Recent tightening of abortion laws in a number of states will surely increase those numbers.

 Cuzin Lou Lou's
Tales from Yonder
Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's tales are to be enjoyed as a light-hearted form of Southern expression

Death is something we all have an appointment with... the unknown is when exactly that appointment time will arrive. It did this past Sunday evening, May 28, for one of Papa's siblings.

Aunt Peggy was Papa's oldest sister...the second oldest of seven total siblings. The age range of the seven was from 90 to 75. Papa is the 'baby' of the group at 75.

Aunt Peggy was the first of the seven to receive the appointment call. She was 88.

Cuzin Lou Lou and several of her cousins have often discussed how lucky the family has been for all seven to live such long lives, but all knew that one day, that longevity would be broken. Yet, how blessed this family has been to have had all seven of the siblings for so long!

Lou Lou often quips that she hopes she got Papa's family's genes when it comes to a long-lived life! Even more, when one thinks of this unusual blessing...all seven of the siblings have spent their time well in raising their own families, "doing good" unto others, and passing the torch on to the next generations.

Aunt Peggy had one of the sweetest souls a person could enjoy. She loved God and she loved her family... fiercely! No one ever doubted her love because she showed it in every way she could to everyone she knew.

As family members have reflected this week on stories from the past, Lou Lou could not help but remember all the times the whole clan would gather at Aunt Peggy's house every Christmas Eve. It was an evening of great food and even better laughs...and the love of family was always there.

As the siblings and their spouses gathered around a table or in the den to catch up on things, their kiddos (the cousins) would gather outside to play games and talk – away from the 'old folks'.

Of course, when the cousins were younger, the gathering would break up pretty early in the evening as the little ones had to get home and go to bed so Santa would come see them. Then, as the family grew older and some of the cousins began to marry themselves, the attendance dwindled, but even that didn't stop those who could still come from enjoying the night. Many times, phones calls came in from those who could not be there...just to make sure they didn't miss anything exciting!

Of course, the time came when all the kiddos were grown, and most had families of their own...and the Christmas Eve gatherings ceased at Aunt Peggy's, but those times have remained etched in Lou Lou's mind as some of the greatest family-spent times of her life.

If Aunt Peggy had been able to, and if we all had not grown up and older, she would have tried her very best to have kept the tradition alive forever. It made her happy to do for her family and it made her happiest to have them all gathered in her home enjoying one another.

Sunday night, she had a great reunion and probably a big 'ole party up in Heaven when she went to be with the Lord. On that night, she was reunited with her beloved husband Bobby, and she got to see other family members already gone.

One thing is for certain, as sweet as Heaven may be, it got just a little sweeter Sunday night when Aunt Peggy made her grand appearance!

Papa, his brothers and sisters, Aunt Peggy's son and his family, and all her nieces and nephews are having a tough time this week dealing with the passing of the first from the real magnificent seven...but they also are rejoicing in knowing that Peggy is exactly where she wanted to be!

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling!

"We are just in limbo right now with that," Staley said.

Council members approved a resolution authorizing Southern Engineering Solutions Inc. to make application to ALDOT for sidewalk improvements for the city. If approved for funds to move forward with the sidewalk improvements plan, the city would fund a 20 percent cost share for participation in the program.

Also, during the meeting, council members voted to move forward with implementing a crosswalk in front of Dorsey Trailer to assist with traffic control when employees are arriving and leaving work.

During the remarks from the mayor portion of the meeting, Mayor Maddox said the discussion for a BlueWay Trail on Pea River had stimulated additional interest in the old Pea River dam. He said a meeting would be held in the near future on that matter and he hoped to be able to return to the council with some positive news.

The next Elba City Council meeting will be Monday, June 12, at 5:30 p.m. at Elba City Hall.

Alabama community college system offers rapid, no-cost training to meet demands for fiber optic workforce

Salaries and demand for fiber optic technicians and installers are on the rise.

Through the Alabama Community College System's Skill for Success program, Alabamians can learn how to install and maintain fiber optic networks in less than a week.

The training can be completed quickly because part of the course is done online with interactive learning that is self-paced. Upon completing the online portion of the course, trainees then complete two days of hands-on training with qualified instructors at any of the 24 community and technical colleges around the state.

"Today's communication networks depend on fiber optic connectivity, so the demand for a skilled fiber optic workforce is critical and growing," said Jimmy H. Baker, Chancellor of the Alabama Community College System. "By delivering rapid training, Skills for Success quickly provides the training that can lead to immediate employment."

The online coursework covers the fundamentals of fiber optics, including industry standards and best practices. Participants then receive hands-on training when they learn how to install, test and maintain fiber optic cables, as well as how to troubleshoot and maintain fiber optic systems.

"When you walk out of here you're going to have opportunities to say that you know how to terminate fiber, you know how to test fiber, you know how this works," said Josh Byars, an employee with Joe Wheeler FlashFiber who served as the hands-on instructor for the fiber optic training pilot course at Wallace Community College in Dothan.

Salaries for fiber technicians have increased by 12 percent in the past five years and demand for these professionals is expected to increase by eight percent by the year 2031, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Participants who complete the training also earn an ACCS Credential, which signals to businesses that the individual has mastered the skills taught in the program and is immediately ready for employment. The ACCS Credential can also be used as a foundation for additional classes and training at Alabama community colleges.

"The number one challenge for most businesses right now is finding and retaining a skilled workforce. Skills for Success training is developed in partnership with Alabama industries so it is customized with input from employers for jobs that are in high demand," said Keith Phillips, Vice Chancellor of Workforce and Economic Development for the Alabama Community College System.

Those interested in learning more and signing up for the training can go online to innovation.accs.edu.

What is a Flag Detail, and What Does One Look Like?

The United States flag plays a prominent role in military funerals. As such, it's important to have officers on hand who can not only ensure the fallen service member is properly honored but also see to it that the flag is handled with care and respect.

These officers are collectively known as the flag detail and may include a number of officers tasked with different activities. A couple of members of the detail will be responsible for handling the flag and folding it at the proper time. (The folds of the flag are rich in symbolic significance, and it's vitally important this action is taken on with the requisite attention.) These flag folders will then furnish the flag to the deceased's next of kin.

There are other important roles included in the flag detail, including pallbearers - whose job is to make sure the fallen service member's casket is transported respectfully and carefully.

In other words, the flag detail serves in both a symbolic role and a functional one. The members of the flag detail bring a lot of ceremonial significance to the military funeral service, but their actions are also necessary for keeping the events of the service moving forward.

As you consider the funeral arrangements for your deceased service member, you may have questions about how to arrange the proper flag detail, and what tasks you can expect them to perform during the service. Reaching out to the local VFW or American Legion can provide you with the answers you need. Alternatively, you can always ask your funeral home director for their insights on the matter.

team had scored. IN the Notre Dame locker room, Coach Knute Rockne said to his team, "Boys, I want to tell you a story." Then he related Gipp's death-bed conversation with him: "Sometimes, Rock, when...things are going wrong and the breaks are beating the boys - tell them to go in there with all they've got and win just one for the Gipper." With the team sobbing, Rockne said, "All right, boys, this is the game. Let's get one for the Gipper." Notre Dame won the game that day, 12-6. Paul's final words to the elders of the church at Ephesus were words of encouragement. He had set the example. He knew that final victory would be theirs. It can be ours too, if we are faithful to follow that example and serve Jesus. - C.R.B.

PASTOR'S CORNER

Five Mistakes Dads Should Never Make

1. Not praying with/for your children. Looking back now, I wish I'd prayed for and with my children more. It should have been a greater priority. I wish someone had helped me to be a praying dad a lot sooner.
2. Not admitting when you've blown it. Six of the most important words you will ever speak to your children are: "I was wrong; please forgive me!"
3. Not affirming your children and their innate worth as a person. Find ways to communicate this clearly and consistently to your children. You can never do it enough!
4. Not saying "I love you!" to your children, especially as they get older. "I love you!" What beautiful and powerful words!
5. Not spending quality time with your children daily. A day lost because you're too busy is lost forever. This is my #1 regret.

As scripture cautions us 54 times, "He who has ears to hear, let him hear" (Mark 4:9, et. al.)

While their Granddaddy worked for over twenty-fours over the holiday weekend, both my grandsons enjoyed the beginning of summer by heading to the water. Lawson and his Mom went to the beach for a day and came home with sandy crocs, wet swimming suits and a slight sunburn, while Cannon joined his Mom and Dad at the pool and splashed on every chance he got as he found how much fun a pool can be. Yep, summer is here, for some.

For what it is worth....

Anyone who thinks being a student-athlete in high school is easy needs to talk with a player in just about any sport. At Elba High, and at high schools all around the state, basketball teams will be back on the court in June to get in summer workouts and play games against area teams, while all the athletes in the many other sports will get up early four days a week to head into the weight room and track to work on strength and quickness. It is a sacrifice to play sports in high school, and while the players deserve credit for all the extra hours of work put in, so do all the coaches that are back at school almost daily to try and teach their players the fundamentals of the sport and make certain they will be ready when the season starts. There is truly no rest for the weary when it comes to high school sports!

 In closing.... I still watch the highlights of the Atlanta Braves every night to keep up with their run toward another East Division title, and while I can longer watch the Braves live on the tube, the highlights have kept me satisfied. I haven't been to a game in Atlanta for a couple of years. However, since I can't watch'em live anymore I may have to go to a game and fill the need.

Free Fishing Day set for June 10 at all state lakes

On Saturday, June 10, 2023, Alabamians and out-of-state visitors alike will have the opportunity to fish for free in most public waters including both freshwater and saltwater. Free Fishing Day allows residents and non-residents to enjoy the outstanding fishing Alabama has to offer without purchasing a fishing license. The event is part of National Fishing and Boating Week, which runs June 3-11.

"This is the perfect opportunity for non-anglers to test the fishing waters and to remind former anglers of all the fun they've been missing," said Chris Blankenship, Commissioner of the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (ADCNR). "It's also a day for kids to learn how fun and exciting fishing is, while giving families a chance to do something together outdoors."

Free Fishing Day also takes place during Alabama's red snapper season. While fishing license requirements are waived for Free Fishing

Day, those fishing for red snapper will still need a $10 Gulf Reef Fish Endorsement. For more information visit www.outdooralabama.com/fishing/saltwater-recreational-size-creel-limits.

In addition, State Public Fishing Lakes still require a fishing permit on Free Fishing Day, and fishing in a private pond requires the pond owner's permission. Some piers may also require fees and permits. Anglers looking for a new public fishing spot are encouraged to explore the fishing section of www.outdooralabama.com.

The Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (ADCNR) promotes wise stewardship, management and enjoyment of Alabama's natural resources through four divisions: Marine Resources, State Parks, State Lands, and Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries.

June 6 is first day to register for permit to hunt 'gators in Alabama

At 8 a.m. on June 6, 2023, the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (ADCNR) will begin accepting online applications for Alligator Harvest Permits. The permits allow for the harvest of an alligator in one of Alabama's five designated Alligator Management Areas (AMA) during the dates listed below. There is no fee to apply for a permit.

A total of 260 Alligator Harvest Permits will be distributed among the five AMAs. Individuals may submit one application per management area. The online application must be submitted by 8 a.m. on July 11. For complete season information or to apply for a permit starting June 6, visit www.outdooralabama.com/seasons-and-bag-limits/alligator-season.

Only Alabama residents and Alabama lifetime license holders ages 16 years or older holding any valid all game or small game Alabama Hunting License may apply for permits. Alabama lifetime license holders may apply for an Alligator Harvest Permit even if they have moved out of the state.

Hunters will be randomly selected by computer to receive one harvest permit each. There is a $250 fee for the Alligator Harvest Permit. If selected for two or more locations, hunters must choose which location they would like to hunt. The slot for locations not chosen will be filled from a list of randomly selected alternates.

The random selection process utilizes a preference point system. The system increases the likelihood of repeat applicants being selected for a hunt as long as they

Locals enjoy the Memorial Day weekend with fun, food and more

Memorial Day is a federal holiday in the United States for honoring and mourning the U.S. military personnel who died while serving in the United States. It also is unofficially considered by many to be the "start of summer" thus the holiday weekend is enjoyed by many fun activities along with taking time to remember those who gave the ultimate sacrifice for freedom.

Several locals shared some of their 2023 Memorial Day weekend activities with The Elba Clipper – all noting that their "fun" was made possible by those who gave it all! Each that shared a photo said they are grateful for those who are willing to serve to protect our freedoms.

Joseph Cline of Elba was honored during his graduation ceremony from FAITH Academy over the weekend at County Line Baptist Church in Enterprise. The church sponsors the FAITH (Families Advancing in Teaching Homes) Academy homeschool program that Joseph participated in for his education. Joseph said the sacrifices of those who never made it home from service allowed him to not only enjoy the privilege of graduation this past weekend, but it also allowed him to do so by attending his graduation through a church-based program. Joseph is the son of Joel and Anne Cline of Elba.

Byrdie Forbes spent her most of her Saturday at the ballpark watching her older sister, Taylor Day, participate in a softball tournament in Marianna, Fla. Of course, the stains on Byrdie's lips suggest that she also enjoyed snacking while at the ballpark! Byrdie is the daughter of Robbie Forbes and Raean McCollough of Elba.

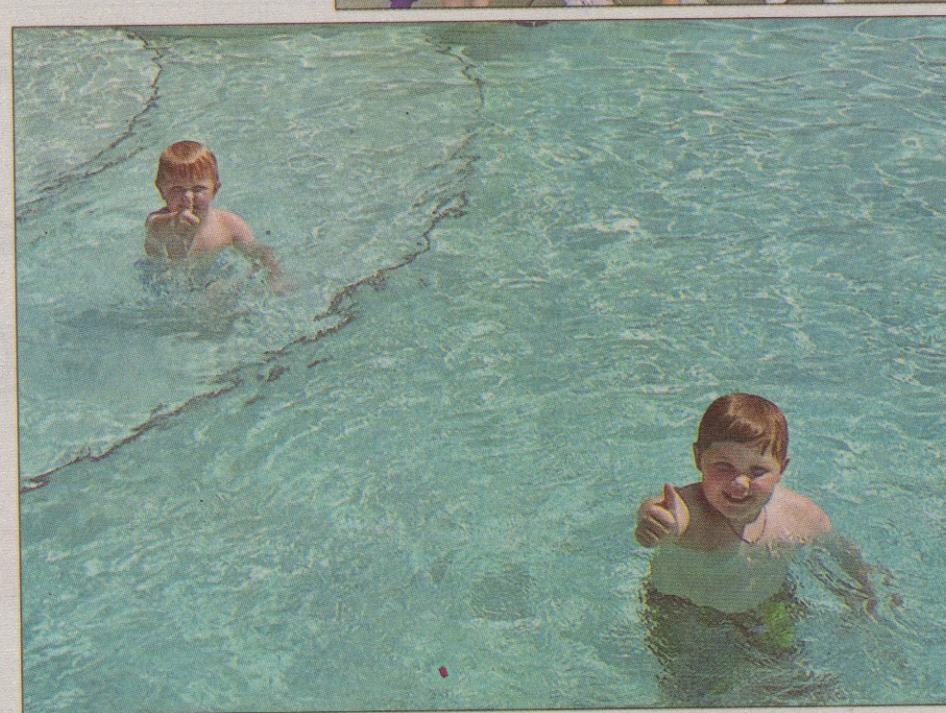

Photo to the Right: This group of young ladies from Elba enjoyed their Sunday afternoon at the movies! The girls went to see Disney's The Little Mermaid, which made its box office debut over the holiday weekend. According to the ladies, the movie was "Great!" The group of friends includes (from left) Mary-Brooklyn O'Neal, Taylor Day, Hillary Hudson, Byrdie Forbes, Kayden Moseley, Keelie Moseley, and Parrish Grantham.

As the group photo shows, it was difficult to get all in the frame thus the partial head showing for Bradley!

Brothers Carson (front) and Jackson (back) Blair and their baby brother, Colton, spent the Memorial Day weekend with their grandparents Dean and Melonee Blair while their dad and mom, Brian and Megan Blair, were away on an anniversary trip. Carson and Jackson had a busy weekend with the grands, and they gave thumbs up when it came to swimming time! The weekend also included a trip to the movies, grilling, shopping, church, and more.
